Linedata Gravitas Partners with Seclore for Data-Centric Security and GDPR Compliance

Seclore Rights Management solution is now seamlessly integrated with Linedata Gravitas' Cybersecurity Services Portfolio offering

Paris and New York, 9 February 2018 – Linedata (Euronext Paris: LIN), the global solutions and outsourcing services provider to the investment management and credit finance industries, and Seclore, the global leader in Rights Management, today announced that Seclore's solution is now integrated into Linedata Gravitas' Cybersecurity Services Portfolio, allowing clients to protect their most sensitive data regardless of where the data travels or is stored, in any file format, and on any operating system or device.

As global data increasingly moves across users, applications, networks and devices, the data security gap continues to grow. Most security investments are focused on protecting devices, applications and networks, potentially leaving organizations' single most valuable asset – data – vulnerable.

With this partnership, Linedata's global alternative, institutional, wealth and fund manager clients gain a built-in way to ensure that they are compliant with data privacy regulations around the globe, including the European Union General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). Seclore Rights Management provides a full audit trail, real-time reporting and alerts of any unauthorized data usage activity.

"Today's announcement brings together two best-of-breed solutions," noted Vishal Gupta, Founder and CEO, Seclore. "By combining Linedata's global innovation in SaaS and hosting solutions for the financial services industry with Seclore's deep expertise in Rights Management, clients can now easily and confidently protect their most sensitive data, and ensure compliance with GDPR and other regulatory requirements."

"With Seclore now integrated into our Cybersecurity Services, we support Linedata clients in solving a growing imperative in regulatory and fundamental data protection," stated Gary Brackenridge, Global Co-head of Asset Management and Servicing at Linedata. "Linedata's complex, global clients can be confident that their most valuable IP will be protected, comprehensively and seamlessly."
