NEW

Transforming your financing business

Your lending and leasing solution just got more powerful. Linedata Capitalstream 2020 is our first version that leverages cloud technology, providing you with a new level of scalability, flexibility and value. You know Linedata Capitalstream increases your efficiency, reduces your risk, and streamlines your lending process. Now, thanks to the public cloud, it provides the digital transformation to take you to the next level.

"Cloud technology offers new approaches to profitable growth, and companies are encouraged to develop a comprehensive and well-executed cloud strategy to capture the full potential and power of this business asset."

- Accenture

The newest version of our time-tested solution supports your institution's aspirations.

Control costs

The biggest global banks report cutting technology infrastructure costs by 25% as a result of adopting the cloud, according to Financial Insights.

Grow and scale without hefty expense

Business models are changing. Evolve with our cloud-based platform that scales dynamically, allowing you to increase data, add more transactions and acquire business without adding hardware, upgrading software or support and maintenance.

Use your IT resources wisely

Linedata Capitalstream 2020 requires less of your IT team's time. Maintenance and support are handled on our side, freeing your IT team up to work on higher-impact projects that can affect your bottom line.

Gain a competitive edge

Just 3% of banks responding to a recent Accenture survey did not have a cloud strategy. Cloud adoption will have a major impact to the competitive market in 2020.

Stay up-to-date

Forward-thinking banks are moving to the cloud to keep pace with innovation. Our cloud-based solution provides you with updates and enhancements throughout the year as we develop. Instead of waiting for an upgrade to take advantage of new features, they are yours as soon as available without a cumbersome upgrade.

Offer an incredible experience

Our solution helps close deals faster and offer proactive customer support to exceed expectations. Solution users are also provided with an enhanced experiences with screens that look like tools you use in your free time.

Optimize security

"Cloud providers have extreme security standards - and a track record. Environments can be as secure or more secure than on-premises" says Deloitte.

Consider your resources

No bank is willing to accept all the benefits of the cloud if it means putting customer data at risk. Major cloud providers such as Amazon's AWS and Microsoft's Azure have outstanding resources to manage security at a level most banks couldn't. With the cloud provider developing resiliency and back-up processes, your team is not spread beyond capacity.

Be proactive against threats

As threats evolve, security for software also improves. Linedata Capitalstream 2020 offers continuous delivery of our constant innovation to provide the best in security.

Linedata Capitalstream 2020 offers benefits at every level of your organization.

Linedata Capitalstream 2020 continues our history of helping you reduce risk, streamline origination and automate processes to build efficiency and deliver to your customers. Our new future-focused platform gives you the flexibility to grow and evolve, supported by the most modern technology.

CEO

Grow and scale your commercial loan origination business with resource elasticity, organizational flexibility, and operational resiliency. Technology becomes a business enabler, not a blocking factor.

IT team

Imagine what you could work on if maintenance and administration of third-party solutions wasn't on your plate. Updates and fixes are handled by us, freeing you up to do more strategic work.

COO/CFO

With the cloud subscription model replacing our current license model, the IT cost structure can be reorganized from a capital expense to an operational expense. Scaling will no longer be a financial burden.

Solution users

Your work is easier, faster and more pleasant with ongoing enhancements to the forms, features and tools you use daily. The solution is always up to date and looks and feels like apps you use in your free time.

The bottom line

Technology moves fast. Provide your commercial lending business with the platform that keeps up, helping you control costs, gain a competitive edge and optimize security with the power of the cloud.

Linedata Capitalstream 2020's cloud-based platform is built to support the work you do today and prepare you for what comes tomorrow. Scalability, flexibility and resiliency ensure that your business is ready to evolve.
