Linedata Capitalstream

Our Business Lending Origination Solution

Infuse your commercial and small business loan process with efficiency and productivity. Our time-tested business lending solution streamlines and digitizes the journey from pre-sales to close with configurable, automated workflows. Replacing manual and paper-based processes, you reduce commercial loan origination cycle times while creating a transparent and consistent process that benefits your employees and your customers.

Why Linedata Capitalstream

Linedata Capitalstream is built specifically for business lenders. Our team of tenured experts acts as a single partner from purchase to implementation to support. When it comes to implementation, our pre-configured best practice model takes advantage of experience with institutions like yours to derive maximum benefit quickly. Our deep expertise helps you get more value from your solution long term.

Managing risk is key to profitable lending. Linedata Capitalstream helps you make smart credit decisions with data aggregation, tracking, monitoring, reporting and analytics. You'll get an accurate view of exposure with robust financial spreading and analysis capabilities. Plus, ongoing monitoring of your portfolio alerts you to deteriorating trends so you can proactively address concerns. Highly configurable, the solution matches your risk policies and procedures, and not the other way around.

From daily users to your IT team, Linedata Capitalstream brings every role meaningful value.
