An introduction to Linedata
Global Services

We're Linedata Global Services, the premier services firm to the Traditional and Alternative Asset Management industry. We know the world of Asset Management because we've built, operated and overseen the technical infrastructure and operations of Asset Managers for over two decades. You may know Linedata technology, but our clients will say that Linedata Global Services is our best-kept secret.

We understand that you want to stand out and stay ahead, with the ability to react quickly to opportunities. You want to achieve maximum returns while scaling and growing, yet remaining nimble and lean so you stay in control and can focus on core activities. You need a trusted partner by your side who understands your challenges and delivers solutions that are right for your business.

By reimagining your processes and leveraging our expertise, we provide cutting-edge, innovative solutions that deliver superior business outcomes. We offer the advantages of a large, global business with the customer centricity of a small company, giving clients what they need, not what others tell them they want. We increase your capacity, without the hassle of onboarding, because our people are already experts who are trained to integrate seamlessly with your organization. We can provide a full, turnkey operational and technology-powered platform, but we're also happy to utilize your existing software and operational processes, always offering the same high-quality and high-touch services.

All this means that your costs stay down and you remain lean while retaining transparency and control, and mitigating your operational risk. Your team is freed from the day-to-day, so you can sharpen focus on investment decisions, managing investors and developing your business. Our co-sourcing approach enables you to scale and grow holistically. Our team is truly an extension of your business, providing continuity and 100% reliability. We call it co-sourcing, because out-sourcing simply doesn't say partner strongly enough.

We're Linedata Global Services. We take away your stress, supporting you whatever your Asset Management challenges. Experience the freedom you're looking for and be empowered to get on with what matters – investing, growing and flourishing.

Expertise. Leveraging our scale to deliver your ambition.

With a greater volume of data than ever at their fingertips, investment managers have the power to leverage more and better insights. We support your ambition by providing the scale to cover your existing portfolio while giving you time back to search for new opportunities and make crucial decisions.

Imagine having quick and easy access to accurate, relevant data that has been extracted, processed, validated and is ready to use, giving your teams the intelligence they need. Imagine having technology that can do the heavy lifting so you can scale without needing to hire more people. We provide all this while keeping costs low and liberating your teams from the groundwork of data collection, sifting and cleansing, resulting in tangible returns and a competitive edge.

"Your solution complements my team, providing excellent means to extend our research coverage."

Trusted. We've been doing it for over 25 years.

Technology has created a unique set of opportunities and challenges for investment firms. Correctly leveraged, IT is transformational, but when out of date or improperly maintained, systems can limit your ability to focus on core business and deliver for your investors. In addition, cybersecurity concerns are exposing firms to greater regulatory scrutiny. And while a shift to public cloud provides opportunities to innovate and scale, the complexities of defining a cloud strategy, managing your migration, and optimizing your applications for cloud can be particularly daunting.

Linedata Technology Services will help you manage these challenges to achieve your desired outcomes. We provide the confidence and reassurance that your IT and cybersecurity needs are being met by industry-leading experts, enabling you to focus on the key business activities that grow your business and keep you ahead of the competition.

"We chose Linedata as a partner with deep asset management industry knowledge and the ability to deliver flexible hosting with full IT managed services, custom software development and 24/365 support. I rely on the Linedata team and have confidence in their ability to always deliver."

Tailored. We don't do cookie cutter.

Transformation, operational efficiency and information management are key objectives for asset managers as they look to grow their business. You need to create leverage with in-house resources and access necessary expertise while operating on tight budgets and prioritizing day-to-day operations. The exponential growth of data and the burgeoning role of IT only adds to the complexity. You need a partner you can trust with your digital transformation needs.

Let us provide leverage across your operations and technology teams so you can achieve your objectives, free up in-house resources, mitigate completion risk and focus on making the value-add decisions that maximize ROI. With decades of experience and a long list of successful projects and satisfied clients, you can rely on our dedicated teams to make confident decisions, and to deliver your enterprise initiatives on time and on budget.

"Linedata is our trusted partner to help us execute on all of our change-the-business transformation initiatives."
