

Linedata expands the North America presence in Charlotte, NC

New office will enable client proximity and local presence, attract local talent and further sharpen the value proposition to all clients

Paris, Charlotte, New York, Boston, Toronto, Seattle, January 26, 2022 – Linedata (Euronext Paris: LIN), global provider of asset management and credit technology data and services, inaugurates today its new office in Charlotte, NC, adding to its existing footprint in North America.

Ideally located in the financial ecosystem in Charlotte, the new location benefits from necessary infrastructure and resources, including renowned finance and IT universities. With the addition of this local site, Linedata will provide a broad range of services across all the business lines, including Global Services, Asset Management, and Lending & Leasing.

"Over the last 20 years, we've continuously expanded our footprint to offer customized solutions and services combining our financial and technology expertise. As we look to accelerate our growth, providing optionality to the clients based on customer preferences on delivery location/mix and broader access to the limited talent pool is an important strategic priority for Linedata" commented Gary Brackenridge, Head of Strategy, Linedata Asset Management.

Linedata expects to scale the Charlotte office rapidly with talents and experts across all the Business Lines and leverage local talent ranging from Fund Accountants, IT engineers, Product Developers, Cloud resources, and QA to complement the global resource pool.

Linedata has been serving customers in North America since 2001 with offices on the East coast, which includes New York, Boston, and Toronto, and on the West Coast in Seattle. The whole region ranks #1 in terms of global turnover.

The opening of this new office in Charlotte is the continuity of its international development, and Linedata is planning to further expand throughout the American continent and beyond, to ensure it provides the innovative solutions to the worldwide investment management and credit community.
