

Give your business an edge with streamlined ESG data across sources and venues

With Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) factors gaining global and mainstream momentum, asset managers and management companies recognize a major growth opportunity. At the same time, you face greater pressure from regulators and investors for better data, analysis, standards, and transparency.

Why Linedata ESG for Compliance?

Whether you've been an ESG manager for some time, or are just getting started, one thing is clear: getting data right is hard, the lack of standards impedes decision-making, and managing on-going integrations is time-consuming and costly. Moreover, normalizing data throughout your organization is a challenge.

- What if your teams could create a normalized ESG data set from many vendors?
- What if all ESG data processing tasks could be automated?
- What if this golden copy of data could then be applied downstream to your impacted systems including OMS, compliance, and reporting ?

Ready for the future: Linedata's ESG solution enables you to adapt and scale along with global regulatory change.
